A good organ suited for the climate and sufficiently large for the Cathedral would cost a considerable amount, but I quite agree with "Chorister" that it is far more necessary than a new pulpit, altar, bells, or tiles Dispense with the choir and the organ, and sadly fear we should witness a woeful falling off in the attendance.

Speaking of a new organ, I have been told that one has been ordered from Italy for the new Roman Catholic Cathedral in course of construction at Glenealy, which will cost about $5.000. It is a gift from a Portu -uese gontleman.

These offices will, however, no doubt be filled up without much further delay, as our present Governor is evidently not fond prograstination.

The close of Sir Arthur Kennedy's administration of the government of Queensland will rendered memorable by the annexation by that culony of the esstern half of the vast island of New Guinea. There must have been very cogoni reasons for this action of the Queensland Govornment or the cantious Sir Arthur would never have sanctioned it. The constant attacks upon the pearlisheries on the coast of Guinea form one very excellent argument in favour of annexation of the territory in question in order to try and establish some control over the cannibals. But this alone would not be regarded as sufficient ground for taking the step without reference to the Imperial Government. The real truth probably is that information reached Brisbane of the impouding seizure of New Guinea by some foreign Power, and Queensland promptly de sided that a foreign neighbour on the opposite side of the Torrey Straits could not be tolerated. Australian colonies would very warmly conour.

The Next was the "Mother Goose" quadrille, under the leadership of Mrs. Lawrence Perkins. At little after 11, to the strains of Gilmore's band, six quadrilles, comprising in all nearly hundred ladies and gentlemen, formed in order in the gymnasium and began to move in a glittering procession down the stairway and through the ball, windin : through a motley growd of princes, monks, cavaliers. Highlanders, queens, kings, daily maids. bull-fighters, knights, brigands and nobles. In the "Hobby Horse" quadrille, the borses were the most wenderful things of the kind aver contracted in this country. They were of life size. covered with genuine hides, had large bright eyes and flowing manes and tails, but were light enough to be easily and comfortably attached to the waists of the wearers, whose feet were conscaled by richly embroidered hangings. The costumes were red hunting coats, white bats, satin vests, yellow satin knee breeches, and white satin stockings. The ladies were red bunting coate and white satin skirts elegantly embroidered. All the dresses were in the style of Louis XIV. The Mother Goose" Quadrille, led by Mrs. Lawrence Jenkins as Mother Goose and Mr. Oliver H. Northoote as the winard, was perhaps the most brilliant quadrille of the evening.

Daily Press Office, Hongkong. For comprehensiveness and practical service this Work stands unrivalled. All the new words which the Chinese have of late years been compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in exienso. Each and every word is fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given. the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, achieving a clearness not previously attained, and dispensing with those vast margins or about SATURDAY, the 12th May.
and vacant spaces which have heretofore characters and vacant spaces which have heretofore characters. terized Chinese publications.

To illustrate the vast scope of the work, the May. following facts are submitted for consideration :-Chalmers' Vocabulary contains about 16,000 declared. Chinese characters, and Medhurst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst 795 this work contains more than 50,000 English words, and upwards of 600,000 Chinese characters. Again, despite all the grammars and other elementary works as yet published, the student of this difficult language absolutely requires examples to display the various applications and equivalents of different words which [741 have one general meaning. Of these examples Talpey, Master, will load here for the above Messrs. R. MATHEWS & Co. this work contains more than five times as many as any other Dictionary hitherto pub-

For practical purposes the arrangement of the work is so complete, that a reference to its pages enables a person who understands English to communicate effectively with natives who understand nothing but Chinese. In this respect the work will be found indispensable to all Europeans residing in China, and to the natives themselves it explains subjects fully with which very few indeed of them are perfectly acquainted. To parties resident in England and interested in China it cannot but be invaluable occasion-
